GREETINGS

Rev. Shinpachi Kanow writes: "Please extend my best regards to all". Rev. Kanow left the Denver Conference for Des Moines and Minneapolis to visit friends and relatives. He will return to the center on July 19.

Greetings were received from Rev. K. Harper Sakaue who writes: "Cloudy cool weather here today. I went calling on farmers in Brighton, Colorado. Will be home within two weeks".

Marye Okura of Cincinnati says: "Please give my best regards to my church friends. I'm always praying for them".

Greetings were received from Mary Ige and Kiyoko Fujiyama who are attending the Ferncliff Conference.

Acknowledgments

Our sincere thanks and appreciation to:

Miss Hoshiko Kusudo for donation. She writes: "It is with gratification in my heart, I write to thank you for the Church bulletins which reach me so regularly. I like to read about the faithful members and their activities in and about the out-lying places of the center. I am enclosing this small contribution to defray expenses involved in sending me the bulletins. For those who remain with the leadership and responsibilities of the church I wish and pray for their continued success". 316 E. 5th So. St.; Salt Lake.

Lovilia Methodist Sunday School for second package of Sunday School papers. Mrs. W. F. Gaddis of Lovilia, Iowa is Superintendent of this group.

Sunday School class of Nashville Methodist church for books to our children. Miss E. Mae Young writes: "A Sunday School class of girls who are from nine to eleven years old, has sent to us ten dollars and asked us to use it for good literature for children at a Relocation center. We have purchased several books and are sending them to you as an expression of friendship from this class of girls. I hope you will let the children at the center know that a group of Caucasian children care enough about them to save their money to buy books for their Japanese American friends".
